

Another Pint's July Newsletter

July was a fantastic month and ended on a high note for “The Colonel” Rob O’Connor. Fiddler’s Hearth has become our favorite venue in the Midwest! “The Colonel” had them dancing on the tables and saluting them all night long! We also had two great shows at The Irish American Heritage Center’s Summer Fest and Gaelic Park! What a month! Check out the song of the month on Page 3!

July 2003

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
		1	2	3	4 Stout's	5 Stout's
6	7	8	9	10	11	12 Summer Fest and Gaelic Park
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25 Fiddler's Hearth	26
27	28	29	30	31

Another Pint's July Pictures

Here are some photos from our July Schedule. We thank the photographers who graciously took the photos for us.

LET THE PEOPLE SING

For [G] those who are in love there's a [D] song that's warm and [G] tender,
For [C] those who are oppress[G]sed in [D] song we can protest,
So [G] liberate your mind and [D] give your soul [G] expression,
[C] Open up your [G] hearts and I'll [D] sing for you this [G] song.

[chorus]

Let the [G] people sing their stories and their songs,
And the [C] music of their native [G] land,
The lullabies and battle cries and songs of hope and joy,
[A] Join us hand in [D] hand,
[G] All across this ancient land [C] throughout the test of [G] time,
It was music that kept their spirits [Em] free,
Those [A] songs of [D] yours and of [G] mine.

It was back in ancient times The Bard would tell his stories
Of the hero's, of the villain, of the chieftain in the glen
Through Elizabethan times and Cromwellian war and fury
Put pipers to the sword, killed our harpers and our bards.

Ireland land of song your music lives forever,
In your mountains and your valleys in your hills and in your glens,
Our music has survived through famine and oppression,
To the generations gone I will sing for you this song.